To those who do not board in college the charge for tuition is the same, and for the use of room, furniture, library, &c., $25 per session. There is an admission fee of $10, and a small charge each session for contingencies. Fuel and lights are furnished at cost, and washing at 372 cents per dozen. The necessary college expenses of a boarding stu-dent will not exceed $180 or $190 per annum. All the bills are payable one half at the beginning, and the balance at the middle of the session.

With a view of giving to the different departments of instruction a wider extension, and at the same time of meeting a public want by rendering the advantage of the college available to a larger number and a more varied class of students, some important changes have been made in the order and arrangement of the students. A new course has been adopted, styled the Scientific Course, and the degree of Batchelor of Philosophy (B. P.) attached to it. It will occupy about three years, and will embrace all the studies of the regular course for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, with the experience of the approach to the studies. ception of the ancient languages. This course will be specially adapted to those who wish to obtain what is called a practical education, as the mathematical and scientific studies will have mathematical and scientific studies will have greater prominence than usual, particularly in their application to the arts and business of life. Those who may wish to become practical surveyors, engineers, or agriculturists, will be enabled, with the advice of the faculty, to select their studies with special reference to those objects, and will receive the aid of lectures and illustrations. The doors of the College will also be opened to those who may wish, under its general regulations, to pursue any branch of study for any length of time. They may, under the direction of the faculty, select such subjects as are suited to their views and objects in jects as are suited to their views and objects in life, and, on examination, may receive a regular certificate of their standing and proficiency in the

The number of officers and instructors has lately been increased, and others will be added as the wants of the several departments may require.

Measures are in progress for filling immediately the chair of chemistry, geology, mineralogy, and

The preparatory department has been placed under careful and efficient management, in a building which has been handsomely fitted up for its reception. It has an able and experienced teacher,

The buildings have recently undergone thorough repairs, and the grounds are being laid out and improved in a manner that will add much to the convenience and attractiveness of its already beautiful situation.

It is believed the College never presented so strong inducements as it now does to young men who desire to obtain a thorough and liberal educa-tion.

The study of practical anatomy may be prose cuted with the most ample facilities, and at very trifling expense.
Clinical lectures are regularly given at the college infirmary and Richmond almshouse. The infirmary, under the same roof with the college, and subject to the entire control of the faculty, is at all times well filled with medical and surgical cases, and furnishes peculiar facilities for clinical instruction. Many surgical operations are performed in presence of the class; and the students, being freely admitted to the wards, enjoy, under the guidance of the professors, unusual opportu-nities for becoming familiar with the symptoms, diagnosis, and treatment of disease.

EXPENSES.—Matriculation fee, $5. Professors' fees. $100. Demonstrator's fee, $10. Graduation

The price of board, including fuel, lights, and servants attendance, is usually $3 or $3½ per week. DAVID H. TUCKER, M. D., DROSPECTUS OF THE UNITED States Illustrated.—Under the title of the nited States Illustrated, has been commenced United States Illustrated, has been commenced the publication of a great national work, of a very costly and magnificent description, for which the liberal patronage of the American public is confidently expected. It will appear in parts with such promptitude that two volumes will be completed before the close of the present year. These volumes will be issued simultaneously, one being exclusively devoted to eastern and the other to western subjects. Each part will contain four steel clusively devoted to easiern and the chair four steel tern subjects. Each part will contain four steel engravings, from original drawings by eminent entire representing either some remarkable view artists, representing either some remarkable view from the splendid landscape scenery of the country, or some public edifice, whose architectural beauty or historical character entitles it to such

The present volume of the western section will contain, among other illustrations, views of the grand and peculiar scenery of the Mississippi river, from its origin at Itasca Lake down to its mouth, below New Orleans. In a similar manner the volume of the eastern section will represent only such subjects from the sea-board States as are most striking and truly American.

But if excellence has thus been aimed at in the engravings, the literary department also will have every attention bestowed upon it. No expense has been spared to render the work in this respect also a national monument. Many of the best and popular writers of the country are engaged as regular contributors, and the editorial direction of the whole has been entrusted to the care of Mr. Charles A. With the last numbers each subscriber or purchaser of the two volumes, will receive to each section of the work an allegoric title page, executed in a high style of art, and as a premium, a magnificent steel engraving, 36 by 25 inches, representing The Battle of Bunker Hill, from Trumbull's great picture, whose superb execution renbull's great picture, whose superb execution ren-ders it a costly ornament, and whose subject will of the Painters of all Nations." This splendid series includes biographical notices of various painters of celebrity, descriptive catalogues of their performances, and beautifully engraved copies of their chief works. The works of one painter will appear in each monthly part.

The engravings preparing for future numbers are in the hands of the first artists of America, England, France, and Germany. A series of tales of the most interesting description are in the course of publication, including "The School of Life," written and illustrated by Anna Mary, daughter of William and Mary Howitt, with engravings, from drawings made expressly by the authoress. Also, an historical novel, entitled "The Dead Bridal," illustrative of the most interesting period in the history of the Venitian republic, by Jonathan Freke Slingsby, of the Dublin University Magazine; and contributions from William and Mary Howitt, Percy B. St. John, FitzJames O'Brien, and other writers of distinction in America and Europe.

The following is a brief outline of the plan of the Magazine:

The historical department abounds with picturesque representations of the most remarkable events which have occurred in this and other countries; accompanied with interesting anecdotes and details from the pen of the most eminent writers of the day. This department contains splendid engravings, designed by the first artists in the world, and engraved in the highest style of modern art.

3. The wonders of natural history, botany, and other sciences, are developed in choice engravings of beasts, birds, fishes, insects, forest trees, flowers, geological and tossil specimens, &c., with accon anying descriptions.

4. The triumphs of architectural art are displayed in exquisitely finished representations of eathedrals, churches, palaces, and other models of ancient and modern architectural art.

5. The works of the great masters, selected from the principal galleries of art in the world. In general, the portrait of the masters is given, ac-companied with highly finished engraved copies of his chefs-d œuvre. 6. In every respect, "The Illustrated Magazine of Art" is decidedly superior to any magazine of the engravings, four of which are printed separately, on superfine plate paper.

The greatest care is taken in every department of production. The paper is of the first manufacture, and the ink supplied from the celebrated printing ink establishment of Messrs. Lawson & Co., of Paris. Six of the monthly portions, when completed, form a volume, which, for interest, originality, value, and beauty, defy competition. ECLECTIC MAGAZINE FOR '53.—The sphere and the utility of the ECLECTIC MAGAZINE have become too well defined to require explanation. Differing in aim from other magazines, and supplying a want which is widely and increasingly felt by a more educated and intelligent portion of the community, it fills a place which could be filled in no other method than by the principle be filled in no other method than by the principle of selection which it adopts. The great reviews and magazines of Great Britain and the Continent, through which the leading minds of the age are accustomed, almost exclusively, to express themselves, are too numerous to be reprinted, as well as too costly to be imported by the general reader. They contain, likewise, much, with their desirable articles, that has but a temporary or local interest, and which is worth to the American reader neither the price nor time required to peruse it. To select the price nor time required to peruse it. To select from the whole field of journalism all that is really valuable, both the graver dissertations and discus-sions of the reviews, and the lighter and more versatile contents of the magazines, is the pur-pose of the ECLECTIC. The best parts of all are thus secured, without the cost or incumbrance of the local or feeble parts of any. Wheeling, and connecting there with the large, new, and splendid Steamers of the Union Line on the Ohio, and the Stages to Zanesville, &c.

This expeditious line being now thoroughly completed, by the late finishing of the Great Board Tree Tunnel, and the road being in excellent order, the earnest attention of travellers is confidently directed to its superior advantages and low fares. The scenery upon this road is of the most stupendous and attractive character.

The Express Mail Train leaves Baltimore daily at 7 P. M., and runs directly through to Wheeling (380 miles) in 18 or 19 hours, including all stoppages, arriving there at 2 or 3 P. M. next day; or, passengers leaving Baltimore at 8 A. M. may lay over for lodging in Cumberland, (179 miles,) and proceed thence to Wheeling in the morning.

To connect with these trains, the cars leave Washington at 6 A. M. and 5 P. M. daily, meeting the cars from Baltimore at the Washington Junction, (better known as the Relay House,) nine miles from Baltimore.

At Wheeling the seven unrivalled Steamers of the Union Line, which have just been completed for this route, form a daily connexion with the cars, and convey passengers down the Ohio to Cincinnati and Louisville, where the Stages for Nashville, &c., or the St. Louis and New Orleans Packeta, may be taken by those going further on.

Passengers for Columbus (or who prefer the land route to Cincinnati) and other parts of Ohio and the West may also proceed direct from Wheeling in the Ohio Stage Company's excellent coaches over the best part of the National Road to Zanesville, &c., and thence by railroad.

Passengers for Wellsville and Cleveland by steamboat and railroad will also find this a most agreeable route, there being a regular and speedy connexion at Wheeling to and from those places.

THE GLOBE:

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CONGRESS AND NEWSPAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

It will be seen by the annexed extract from a letter of General Washington to David Stewart, dated New York, 17th March, 1790, that the idea dated New York, 17th March, 1790, that the idea of such a paper as I propose to make the Globe originated in the mind of the Father of his Country. He said:

"It is to be lamented that the editors of the different feasettes in the Union do not more generally and more correctly (instead of stuffing their papers with scurrility and nonsensical declamation, which few would read if they were apprised of the contents) publish the debates in Congress on all great national questions. The principles upon which the difference of opinion arises, as well as the decisions, would then come fully before the public, and afford the best data for its judgment."—Sparker's Writings of Washington, vol. 10, p. 84. THE DAILY GLOBE AND THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE

The Dally Globe and The Congressional Globe
In surrendering my interest in the organ of a great political party, I cherished the purpose of continuing the Congressional Globe, and, if possible, in time, to perfect it into a full history of the action of Congress, giving the debates accurately and fully with the proceedings—all stamped with the verity of an official record. From the passage in the letter of General Washington, which I have quoted, it will be perceived that he thought this office might be combined with that of a regular newspaper; and it is certain that the avidity of the public for news of the less important kind greatly contributes to give wing to the weightier matter which may be called Congressional news.

Having succeeded in my purpose of perfecting the reports of the debates in Congress and giving them the official stamp, I now propose to send them abroad, in connection with the news of the day, in such haste as shall outstrip full and accurate intelligence sent from the seat of Government in any other form whatever. It will even anticipate the scraps of news forwarded to cities within two hundred and fifty miles of Washington by telegraph. Before the events thus transmitted are published in the morning papers, (for instance, of the city of New York,) the Globe containing them will have reached the post office of that city by the Express Mail of the previous night. The process by which this will be effected I now lay before the public.

I will have a corps of sixteen Reporters in Con-

public.

I will have a corps of sixteen Reporters in Congress; each in succession will take notes during five minutes, then retire, prepare them for the Press, put them slip by slip in the hands of compositors, and thus, while a debate is going on in Congress, it will be put in type, and in a few minutes after it is ended it will be in print. I shall by this means, be enabled to send by the Express Mail of 5 o'clock p. m. for the East, West, and North, and by that of 9 o'clock p. m. for the South, all the proceedings of Congress up to the ordinary Aorta, and by that of 9 o'clock p. m. for the South, all the proceedings of Congress up to the ordinary hour of adjournment. Thus the accurate debates of Congress will reach the cities two hundred and fifty miles from the Capitol before their daily morning papers are in circulation.

The miscellaneous news I shall be careful to gather from remote sections of the country by tele-graph. I will obtain from the Executive Departments, through official sources, the matters of mo-ment transacted in them, and through agents employed for the purpose, all the city news of con-sequence in sufficient time to be put into the Globe and mailed in the Express Mail trains. In this sequence in sufficient time to be put into the Globe and mailed in the Express Mail trains. In this way I hope to create a new era in the dissemination of news from Washington. Hitherto no newspaper has attempted to give authentic accounts of things done at Washington before the public mind at a distance had received its first impressions form irresponsible telegraphic dispatches, or by letter-writers biased by peculiar views.

Washington has now become so great a centre of political interest during all the year—the proceedings of the Executive Departments and the information collected by them even during the recess of Congress is of so much importance to the interests of every section of the country—that I shall continue the publication of the daily paper permanently, with a view to become the vehicle of the earliest and most correct intelligence.

It is part of my plan to reduce the price of the daily paper to half that of similar daily papers; and thus I hope to extend its circulation so as to invite advertisements. I will publish advertisements of the Government. To subscribers in the cities I hope to submit such terms as will induce them to advertise their business in every village through-out the Union, where the Globe is contained.

hope to submit such terms as will induce them to advertise their business in every village throughout the Union, where the Globe is sentdaily under the franks of members of Congress, all of whom take it, and some of them a large number of copies.

The installation of a new Administration and a new Congress portends much change in the course of public affairs as the result of the next session. Many vast interests which were brought up in the last Congress were laid over by the Democratic Executive. The new modeling of the tariff; the new land system; the question of giving homesteads, and making every man a freeholder who may choose to become one; the approximation of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans by a national railroad across the territory of the Union; reform in the Army, Navy, and civil offices—all these great questions, with a thousand minor ones, deeply affecting multitudes of men and every State in the Union, will, now being matured by public conjuion, come testimony to its value. It has also received the united commendations of the press.

Hotel proprietors and storeksepers in the city of Washington and its vicinity, desirous to avail themselves of the economiser, can obtain all further information by calling on the subscriber, who has fitted one of these Regulators up in his store, and will give an illustration of it.

The Congressional Globe will also be printed on a double royal sheet, in book form, royal quarto size, each number containing sixteen pages. The Congressional Globe proper will be made up of the proceedings of Congress and the running debates as given by the Reporters. The speeches which members may choose to write out themselves will, together with the messages of the President of the United States, the reports of the Executive Departments, and the laws passed by Congress, be added in an Appendix. Formerly I received subscriptions for the Congressional Globe and Appendix separately. But this has not been found satisfactory, inasmuch as it gave an incomplete view of the transactions in Congress; and therefore I have concluded not to sell them apart, considering that neighbors can have the advantage of both by clubbing, in case individuals shall find it too onerous to be at the charge of both.

To facilitate the circulation of the Congressional Globe, and cheapen it to subscribers, Congress passed last year a joint resolution making it free of postage. I annex it, as the law may not be accessible to postmasters generally:

Joint Resolution providing for the distribution of the Laws of Congress and the Debates thereon.

With a view to the cheap circulation of the laws of Congress and the debates contributing to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free the communication between the representative and constituent bodies:

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the present session of Congress, the Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contains the laws and the debates thereon, shall pass free through the malls so long as the same shall be published by order of Congress: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the circulation of the Daily Globe free of

Approved, August 6, 1852
As I sell the Daily Globe at half the price of

As I sell the Daily Globe at half the price of similar publications, so the Congressional Globe and Appendix is sold for half the cost of so much composition, press-work, and paper. This I can afford to do, inasmuch as the subscription of Congress almost covers the cost of composition, and this enables me to sell for little more than the cost of press-work and paper. It requires the sale of about 9,000 copies to reimburse expenses. If 500 conly were sold, the cost of each copy would be about $104! The debates the English Parliament cost about eleven times as much as I charge a subscribers for the debates in Congress, equal in quantity, and as well reported and printed.

The next session of Congress will be a long one; and it is believed the Congressional Globe for it will reach 4,000 royal quarto pages, as the last long session made 3,842; and the long one before that made 3,901 royal quarto pages—four large volumes sach session. If subscribers will be careful to file all the numbers received by them, I will supply any that may miscarry in the mails. This work increases in value as it grows old. The first seventeen volumes will now command three times, and some of the subsequent ones twice, their original subscription price.

The subscription price for the Congressional Globe (including the Appendix and the laws) is six dollars.

Complete indexes will be made out and forwarded to subscribers soon after the session is ended

Globe (including the Appendix and the laws) is six dollars.
